EDITOR GENERAL MINUTES.

Bishop Randolph Sinks Foster, D.D., L.LD.

This eminent divine was born at Williamsburg, O., February 22, 1820, and died at Newton Center, Mass., May 1, 1903. He was accordingly in the eighty-fourth year of his age at the time of his decease.

Bishop Foster was educated at Augusta College, Kentucky, and joined the Ohio Conference in 1837, at the age of seventeen years. Of the thirty-seven bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church he was the youngest to enter the ministry. After about a dozen years of pastoral service in the West he was transferred, at the age of thirty-two years, to the New York Conference and stationed in Mulberry Street, New York. In 1857 he was elected President of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., where he remained until 1860, when he returned to New York city. After a number of terms of pastoral service in this city and vicinity he was elected Professor of Systematic Theology in Drew Theological Seminary. This position he held until the decease of Dr. John McClintock, whom he succeeded as president of that institution. This position he retained until May, 1872, when he was elected third in order of eight bishops chosen by the General Conference. For twenty-four years he served the Church in that capacity with marked fidelity. At the session of the General Conference of 1896 he was declared noneffective, and was continued in that relation by the General Conference of 1900.

The personal appearance of Bishop Foster was commanding. When young he was slender. With advancing years he increased in weight, but never disproportionately to his lofty stature. His piercing eyes, his countenance benign in normal expression, his head of iron-gray hair, his erect posture, combined to make a powerful impression before he had uttered a word. On any platform in the world, on any occasion, he would have been a notable figure, at once raising expectations of unusual power. Of his voice it may be said simply that it was adequate. It did not excel in depth or variety of tone, nor in strength, but at no time did it fail to be the instrument of his thought, feelings, and specific impulse.

Bishop Foster was an author of remarkable versatility. At the age of twenty-nine years a series of controversial letters which he wrote was published under the title of "Objections to Calvinism." Shortly thereafter he published a volume on "Christian Purity," which won for him great distinction. After his elevation to the episcopacy he published "Beyond the Grave," a work which became immensely popular.

"It was the hope of Bishop Foster to complete the eleven volumes of the series of 'Studies in Theology,' in which he took great interest, and in preparing for which he had performed great labor, but the strain was too great. Of these volumes only the following have appeared: 1. 'Prolegomena. Philosophic Basis of Theology; or, Rational Principles of Religious Faith.' 2. 'Theism. Cosmic Theism; or, the Theism of Nature.' 3. 'The Supernatural Book. Evidences of Christianity.' 4. 'Creation. God in Time and Space.' 5. 'God. Nature and Attributes.' 6. 'Sin.'

"Bishop Foster was never feeble, never light or trifling, never in our presence for a moment lost his dignity; but those who have heard him at his best, and they only, can retain the sense, the overwhelming sense of a powerful personality. It is a blessed thought that all who ever knew him may retain the sense of a pure, dignified, sympathetic, consecrated apostle of the Lord Jesus Christ. Like others, he saw through a glass darkly, but unlike most there was more of light and less of shadow to his consciousness. When he wrote 'Beyond the Grave' he wrote beyond experience; now he knows what we must wait to know."

Bishop John Fletcher Hurst, D.D, LL.D.

The subject of this sketch was born at Salem, Md., August 17, 1834, and died at Bethesda, Md., May 4, 1903, in the sixty-ninth year of his age. The bishop had been in failing health for nearly two years, having been stricken with paralysis while attending the third Ecumenical Methodist Conference in London in the summer of 1901. Since that time he had been unable to discharge the duties of the episcopal office.

Bishop Hurst was graduated from Dickinson College in 1854, having pursued a preparatory course of instruction at Cambridge Academy. After teaching for two years in this country he went abroad and studied at the Universities of Halle and Heidelberg, Germany, for two years. In 1858 he joined the Newark Conference on trial in the same class with Dr. H. A. Buttz and the late Dr. S. L. Baldwin. In 1866 he went to Germany to become theological instructor in the Mission Institute of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Bremen, which while he was there was removed to Frankfort-on-the-Main and was renamed the Martin Biblical Institute. There he remained both as teacher and acting director for five years, meantime traveling in Germany, Russia, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, France, Switzerland, Italy, Great Britain, Greece, Syria, and Egypt. In 1871 he returned to this country, having been elected Professor of Historical Theology in the newly established Drew Theological Seminary, Randolph S. Foster, D.D., being then president. On the latter's election to the episcopacy in 1872, Professor Hurst was chosen president of the institution, filling that position until his election to the bishopric by the General Conference in 1880. He was the third in the order of choice of the four bishops chosen, three of whom, H. W. Warren, C. D. Foss, and J. F. Hurst were elected on the first and E. O. Haven on a subsequent ballot. He was married in 1859 to Catherine Elizabeth La Monte, who died in 1890, leaving four children. In 1892 he married Ella Agnes Root, by whom he had one son.

The American University, Washington, D. C., owes its establishment to Bishop Hurst, who gave to the carrying out of the colossal project the best energies of his life. That he was called hence before realizing in full fruition his cherished plans is to be regretted; but he had, nevertheless, achieved enduring results before he was summoned from labor to rest. Bishop Hurst was an effective preacher and excelled as a platform speaker. He was a man of prodigious mental resource and industry. His profound scholarship is reflected in a multitude of valuable works of which he was the author, and in Hagenbach's "History of the Church in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries," Lange's "Commentary on Romans," and Van Oosterzee's "Lectures in Defense of John's Gospel," of which he was the translator for English readers.
